

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Stefan Pryor (Chairman) serves as Rhode Island's first Commerce Secretary and is the head of Commerce RI. Previously he was the Commissioner of Education for the State of Connecticut. Before moving to Connecticut he served approximately five years as Deputy Mayor for Economic Development in the City of Newark, NJ. In that capacity, he oversaw the City offices responsible for economic development, city planning, housing, workforce development, ex-offender re-entry, and sustainability, among other areas. He also led Newark's State and Federal legislative efforts. Pryor co-founded and served as Chairman of the Brick City Development Corporation, Newark's economic development organization. Before his work in Newark, Pryor was President of the Lower Manhattan Development Corporation (LMDC). Mr. Pryor received his undergraduate and law degrees from Yale University.

Guy Asadorian, Jr. is a Wealth Director for BNY Mellon Wealth Management. In this role, he is responsible for new business development in the New England region, and works with individuals and families to identify how BNY Mellon Wealth Management's investment and wealth management capabilities can help them reach their overall financial goals. Guy joined the firm in 2013 and has more than 25 years of experience in the investment and financial services industry. Previously, he was Principal and Co-Founder of Tameracq Partners, a lower middle market Mergers and Acquisitions firm. Prior to that, Guy was a First Vice President with Smith Barney. Guy received a bachelor's degree from Western New England University. Guy is a member of the Association of Corporate Growth, Chairman of the Investment Committee for the Armenian Historical Association of RI, and a member of the screening committee for the Cherrystone Angel Group.

Susan Leach DeBlasio practices corporate, construction, and health care law at Adler Pollock & Sheehan P.C. in Providence and Boston. A past president of both the Rhode Island Bar Association and the Rhode Island Bar Foundation, Susan is a recipient of the Bar's professionalism award and award of merit and continues to serve on its House of Delegates. A current member of the Commission on Judicial Tenure and Discipline, Susan is a past Chair of the Rhode Island Supreme Court Disciplinary Board. She is also a frequent seminar presenter on the topics of business law, practice management, and legal ethics. Active in civic and community organizations, Susan is President of the Hillel Foundation at the University of Rhode Island, Secretary of the Board of the Jewish Alliance of Greater Rhode Island, a member of the Board of Directors of the Classical High School Alumni Association, and a former Vice Chair of the Miriam Hospital. Susan is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wheaton College and received her J.D. from Boston University School of Law and her M.B.A. from Providence College.

Guillaume de Ramel is a Director of FH Prince & Co and serves as a trustee for The de Ramel Foundation. Committed to improving the lives of Rhode Islanders, the de Ramel foundation has generously funded numerous initiatives in the Ocean State, including a historic $15 million donation for a collaborative effort between Brown University and Rhode Island Hospital to create the Norman Prince Neurosciences Institute (NPNI). The de Ramel Foundation has also awarded grants to Child and Family Services, Family Services RI, the Martin Luther King Jr. Center, Hispanics United Development Organization, BoysTown, the Boys and Girls Club, Lucy's Hearth, Ocean State Action, and dozens more. Prior to de Ramel's current role at FH Prince, he was the Chief Operating Officer at B.R. Arnold Construction and was also a leading sales executive with Holliday Fenoglio Fowler in New York City. De Ramel received his BA in Architectural Studies from Hobart and William Smith Colleges and his Master of Science in Real Estate Development from Columbia University. Guillaume lives on Aquidneck Island and is the proud husband to Molly and their two children, Charlie and Elizabeth.

Scot Jones is the CEO/Owner of Groov-Pin Corp. Jones is a Board and Executive Committee member of Crossroads RI and SE Greenhouse, the Vice President of Women's Center of RI and a member of Rhode Island Commodores. Prior to joining Groov-Pin Corp., he served as Marketing and Engineering Manager at GE. Jones holds a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Maine, a MBA from the University of Chicago and a MASc in Wave Sciences from the University of Toronto.

John S. Justo is the Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer of ADJ Donuts, Inc. and a partner at ADJ Realty, Co. Currently, John is serving on the Rhode Island Special Olympic Board of Directors. He previously worked as a Staff and Tax Accountant at Goluses & Company, LLP and Sansiveri, Kimball & Co., LLP. In addition, from 2008-2012 he served as a board member and chairman of the board for National DCP, a $2 billion supply chain management company serving the franchisees of Dunkin Donuts. He also served as a board member and chairman of the board for the Northeast DCP from 2005-2012, and as a member of the Rhode Island Airport Corporation from 2013-2015. Justo earned his undergraduate degree from Bryant College and lives in Warwick.

Gregory Mancini is an attorney, who is the executive director and general counsel for BuildRI, a labor/management partnership between seventeen (17) local trade unions and three (3) different contractor associations that is devoted to promoting the interests of the union construction industry. Mr. Mancini practices law at the firm of Sinapi Law & Associates where he practices employment, education, and real estate law. Prior to these roles he was legal counsel for the Rhode Island Association of Realtors. Mancini received his BA in Economics from Boston College in 1984 and his Juris Doctorate from Roger Williams University School of Law in 1997 and is admitted to the practice of law in the State of Rhode Island, the Federal District for the State of Rhode Island, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Kerry P. McKay is a member of the North Kingstown Town Council and co-owner of McKay's Furniture. In business for more than 115 years, McKay's Furniture is now under its third generation of ownership with Kerry and his two brothers at the helm. In addition to his work on the Town Council, McKay served on the Town Zoning Board and the University of Rhode Island's (URI) Textile Design Review Board. McKay received his degree in Political Science from URI. An accomplished track and field athlete, McKay has been inducted into both the North Kingstown High School Hall of Fame and URI Hall of Fame.

Job Toll was appointed by the Town of Jamestown to serve on the Quonset Board of Directors in January 2017. He is a recently retired Quality and Environmental Manager at Arkwright Advanced Coating Inc. in Fiskeville RI. He has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry from Oberlin College and a Master of Science degree in Organic Chemistry from the University of New Hampshire. Toll has been a resident of Jamestown since 1982, and prior to that lived in the Village of Wickford in North Kingstown.

Dick Welch is the current President of the North Kingstown Town Council and a General Contractor building custom homes and commercial development in Rhode Island and Florida since 1976. In addition to his work on the Town Council, Welch is the past Chairman of the North Kingstown School Committee as well as the North Kingstown Chamber of Commerce. Welch was also Chairman of the North Kingstown Economic Development Commission and the North Kingstown Asset Management Commission. He also served as a real estate broker in both Rhode Island and Florida.